There simply must be a way to pull an egg through this door. If it only were not so big, or if the space were a little wider . . . It just can't be done. Wait until I find my chemistry students. But first to get rid of this egg. I would drop it, but they have my grade book there on the floor. Oh well . . .

My Dearest Sweetheart, Ann,

Nobody is more honored, prouder, or happier than I am to write in your annual. This has been the luckiest year of my life because I met you. There will never be a sweeter or more pretty girl that I will ever know. Sweetheart, I'll love you always because I know I could never stop. Nobody has ever been so understanding and loving toward me. I thank the lord for putting you on earth and also for bringing us together. I'll always know that no matter where you are you will be making a success with your winning ways and great personality. As many other people have already said you deslive the best things of life. I also know you will get most anything you will ever need out of life because of your smartness and cleverness. I know I'm not very good at writing things like this, but I tried. May God bless and keep you always.

Love You,

Bill Edwards

Lots of luck
